

BETTER ACCESS TO NHS BLOOD TESTS ACROSS GREENWICH

NHS Greenwich CCG is responsible for commissioning most of the healthcare services for the people of Greenwich. This means planning which services need to be in place and ensuring that there are a range of healthcare providers able to deliver care high quality care for our patients.

We have sought to improve the quality of blood-testing services in Greenwich and we have been listening to patients who want shorter travelling times and shorter waiting times for blood-testing services.

Since 2 June 2014, you have been able to continue using the current blood-testing service provided at Queen Elizabeth Hospital or you can choose to have your blood tested at any of the clinics listed here. It does not have to be your usual surgery. You can choose to attend the clinic that is most convenient to you.

Community Phlebotomy Clinics

You do not have to attend a clinic close to where you live if it is more convenient to use blood-testing services at a clinic close to where you work or study.

You can choose from clinics that offer services on a 'walk-in' basis, where no appointment is needed, or you can call the relevant number, where stated, to make an appointment in advance.
